Rotary Supports Thomasville High School Men's Soccer Champions!

The Thomasville HIgh School Men's Soccer Team received their championship rings at the Rotary Club of Thomasville's meeting on July 25, 2019.

"After you do all the work all year long, and then you win a state championship, the last thing you want is for the boys to have go out and do the fundraising for rings," Coach Keith Gwaltney told the Rotary Club. 'You guys were extremely generous. We really appreciate that."

Camp STEMtastic

April Penton and several students presented information on Camp STEMtastic. This is the 6th year of the program serving students interested in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) from Thomasville City and Thomas County schools. Students are recommended by their teachers.

This year, four camps were held including the 'Bottlecaps to Benches' project which provided Buddy Benches to local schools. The goal was for 2,000 pounds of bottle caps and they received 2,600 pounds. The Rotary Club of Thomasville will have a bench in their new pavillion currently being designed.

Several Camp STEMtastic students attended the program and provided information regarding their experiences over the last six years.

This Week's Program

G. Kurt Piehler, Associate Professor of History and Director of Institute on World War II and the Human Experience at FSU.

Founded in 1997 by the late Dr. William Oldson, the Institute on World War II and the Human Experience strives to preserve the photographs, letters, and artifacts of service members and their families. Since its founding, they have continued to enable thousands of veterans to preserve their legacies of service. The collections of primary resources now total over 7,000, largely in the form of personal papers. They are contained in nearly 800 cubic feet of paper documents, 75 cubic feet of photographs, 382 linear feet of books, more than 600 maps, paintings, and magazines, and 300 cubic feet of artifacts. These collections came to Tallahassee from 49 states and Washington, D.C., as well as dozens of collections from around the world . One of the Institute's largest collections, donated by Tom Brokaw, contains the thousands of letters, photographs, manuscripts, and books he collected while writing The Greatest Generation and subsequent works. Our first major collections came from Paul Dougherty, a photographer with the 9th Air Force and 3rd Army, and George R. Langford, who served in the 20th Armored Division under General George Patton in France.

G. Kurt Piehler is a specialist in U.S. History with an emphasis on the Twentieth Century. He received his bachelor's degree from Drew University (1982) and his Ph.D. from Rutgers University (1990). Piehler is author of *Remembering War the American Way (*Smithsonian Institution Press, 1995, reprint ed., 2004), World War II in the American Soldiers' Lives Series (Greenwood Press, 2007), and co-editor of Major Problems in American Military History (Houghton Mifflin, 1999).

He is consulting editor for the Oxford Companion to American Military History (1999) and associate editor of Americans at War: Society, Culture, and the Homefront (Macmillan Reference/Gale, 2005). His articles have appeared in the History of Education Quarterly, Journal of the Rutgers University Libraries, and the anthology, Commemorations: The Politics of National Identity (Princeton, 1994). Piehler is book series editor for World War II:The Global, Human, and Ethical Dimension published by Fordham University Press.

As founding director (1994-1998) of the Rutgers Oral History Archives of World War II, Piehler conducted over 200 interviews with veterans of this conflict. Many of the interviews conducted by Piehler can be found on the Internet at: http://oralhistory.rutgers.edu. His televised lecture, "The War That Transformed a Generation," which drew on the Rutgers Oral History Archives, appeared on the History Channel in 1997.

Piehler has also held academic positions at Baruch College of the City University of New York, Drew University, and Rutgers University. He held the National Historical Publications and Records Commission Fellowship at the Peale Family Papers, National Portrait Gallery, Smithsonian Institution (1988-1989).
